Girl Thrown From Auto; Friend Hurt

Gilbert—Shirley Kresge, 17, of Gilbert, was killed and her companion, Jean Werkheiser, 15, was injured in an automobile accident last night.

Miss Kresge, believed to have been the driver, was pinned beneath the car after it had hit a shoulder at the side of Route 209 and then skidded into ditch.

The vehicle cut a swath for about 100 feet along the ditch, snapped off a foot-thick utility pole, rolled over and came to rest with its front wheels in the ditch and touching the tip of the highway.

Apparently thrown out when the car rolled over, Miss Kresge's body was found, face down, on the shoulder underneath the car.

State police of the Brodheads-ville sub-station investigated and aided in the removal of the Werkheiser girl to the home of relatives. They said it was believed that she was not seriously hurt.

She was thought to have been riding on the right front seat. The front door on the right side was thrown open in the accident and pinned back against the hood. The windows on the right side were smashed and cracked, and there was a deep dent in the top.

Both seats of the four-door sedan were filled with loose dirt, and brush and dirt was piled on the ledge between the back seat and rear window.

The accident occurred about 10:30 p. m. about 30 yards from Schubert's Green Lawn tourist home, just east of Gilbert, and not far from the convalescent home, operated by Shirley's mother.

Her father, Rene V. Kresge, reached the scene and anxiously watched as a wrecking truck lifted the damaged sedan from his daughter's lifeless body.

Miss Kresge was a student at Polk Township High School.

Justice of the Peace Nathaniel Gruber was called to serve as coroner in the absence of Dr. William E. Andrews. He authorized the removal of the body to the Kresge funeral home at Brodheads-ville.

Truman Takes Crack At Reds

Los Angeles (AP) — "It was my experience the Russians broke every agreement they made," ex-President Harry S. Truman said yesterday as he led reporters on a fast couple of laps around the deck of the SS President Cleveland.

The former chief of state stood still long enough to decline comment on whether peace chances might be better with the Malenkov regime in power in Russia.

"I'm not in the same position to get information as when I was president," Truman added, resuming his morning constitutional.

Truman is en route to Hawaii.

CIO Cracks Down On Reds, Rackets

Atlantic City, N.J. (AP) — The big CIO United Auto Workers Union tightened up its anti-Communist, anti-racketeering provisions yesterday by giving the international union power to go over local union heads and put members to trial.

The controversial changes in the UAW constitution swept through the union's convention by a majority of five to one, or better.

Americans Surge Back To Top Of Old Baldy

Heavy Chinese Blow Repulsed By U. N. Forces

Seoul (AP) — The Chinese Communists early today overran much of Old Baldy in their heaviest attack in five months but U. S. Seventh Division infantrymen surged back from the onslaught and won most of the battle-scarred Korean Western Front peak.

A report from the front said the Seventh Division soldiers at mid-morning had retaken Old Baldy except for one spur.

"Our boys are attacking the spur under cover of a big barrage of smoke shells," the report said.

Ethiopian and Colombian troops attached to the Seventh Division joined in stemming the attack against the traditional Imjin River Valley invasion route to Seoul.

The Chinese commanders last night threw 3,500 troops at three Allied bastions guarding the ancient invasion route into South Korea.

Tremendous artillery barrages rocked the flaming sector throughout the night as Communist big guns roared out in fiery support of the major attack and Eighth Army artillerymen fought back to stem the tide.

Seventh Division defenders stood firm on T-Bone and Pork Chop Hills but recoiled for a time before the Chinese onslaught that swept in waves up Old Baldy.

Field dispatches said initial reports that Allied soldiers had been driven off nearby Pork Chop Hill, 3,000 yards west of Old Baldy, had proved erroneous.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Carter on the front said 3,500 Chinese struck in co-ordinated waves Monday night.

Carter said much of the Old Baldy fighting was hand to hand.

The Chinese threw 500 to 750-man attacks at Old Baldy, Pork Chop and nearby T-Bone Hill along a three-mile front.

Another battle raged at White Horse Mountain, 11 miles north of Old Baldy and just west of Chorwon.

The two attacks on T-Bone Hill were crushed. The Red attacks slacked off about 3 a. m. everywhere but at Old Baldy. Sporadic firing continued at dawn, Carter said.

While the attack was a big one, early reports indicated it was doubtful the Chinese intended more than a limited offensive at most.

Baruch Urges Standby Curbs

Washington, (AP) — Elder statesman Bernard M. Baruch yesterday urged Congress to give President Eisenhower standby authority to clamp down a rigid "freeze" on wages, prices and every other segment of the nation's economy in the event of World War Three.

"To wait is to die," the 82-year-old New York financier told the Senate Banking Committee at a televised hearing.

Baruch contended that unless Congress acts now to provide for a lightning transition from peace to a wartime economy, it will "increase the risk of war" and enhance the chances of a successful blitzkrieg against this country.

The witness, a long-time adviser to presidents, spoke out in direct opposition to Eisenhower's own position on the subject of a standby controls law. Eisenhower has said that except for rent ceilings in critical areas and power to allocate scarce materials, he will ask for no controls authority when the present law expires.

IT'S THE ALL-AMERICAN RED CROSS!

It's the all-American Red Cross because it helps all people. Last year one out of every ten persons in the U. S. received some kind of Red Cross assistance or training. Servicemen and civilians alike benefited. Patients in one out of every two hospitals in the U. S. got blood through the Red Cross. Sufferers in floods, fires, tornadoes and other disasters received Red Cross help. Will you give generously this year — and wear the Red Cross symbol to remind others to give?

Russia Rejects American Charge

Moscow (AP) — Russia has rejected a U. S. charge that a Soviet jet fighter fired on a U. S. weather plane in the Far East near Kamchatka Peninsula March 15.

The Soviet note of rejection was carried in the Moscow press today.

The note made a countercharge that the U. S. plane had violated the Soviet frontier and demanded the U. S. government take measures to prevent similar "border violations" in the future.

The note said the U. S. craft had made two "premeditated" violations of the Russian frontier.

The Soviet rejection was in reply to a stiff protest which the U. S. Embassy in Moscow had filed March 18 with the Russian Foreign Ministry over the incident. The Soviet reply, the Moscow radio said, was delivered to the American Embassy Saturday.

The American protest said the incident had occurred 25 miles off the coast of Kamchatka Peninsula and about 100 miles northeast of a Soviet base at Petropavlovsk. The U. S. Air Force said the American plane, a B50, was on weather reconnaissance when two Soviet MIG15s appeared.

One jet stayed overhead, but the other swooped down in a firing pass, the Air Force said. The U. S. complaint said the American tail gunner, following the MIG with his sights, held his fire until the fighter opened with its guns, then returned the Russian's fire. The jet broke off, neither plane was damaged, and the American bomber returned to its Alaskan base, the U. S. said.

Last Friday Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) addressing the Senate, accused the Air Force of issuing a "false report" on the air battle. Flanders said the "reconnaissance bomber was not just there on weather business. It may, nevertheless, have been engaged on a useful mission."

Annual Sessions Of State Legislature Approved By Senate, Referred To House

Harrisburg, (AP) — Without a word of debate, the Senate last night passed a measure calling for annual sessions of the Pennsylvania Legislature instead of sessions each two years. The vote was 38-3.

The proposed amendment to the state Constitution went to the House. Should that branch approve it the question will be placed on the ballot at the November election at a state-wide referendum.

Amendments to the Constitution must be approved by two sessions of the Legislature and by a vote of the people before becoming effective. The annual sessions proposal first passed both branches of the General Assembly in the 1951 session.

The Senate Committee on Constitutional Changes has held inactive a House-passed bill setting up machinery for a constitutional convention to rewrite the state's Constitution. A number of senators have voiced opposition to the convention plan, backed by Gov. John S. Fine.

In other developments, the House received a package of administration bills to renew 211 million dollars of temporary taxes now in effect. No new taxes were included.

The bills went to the House Tax Writing Committee where they will be taken up when the Assembly gets to the task of adopting the commonwealth's $1,400,000,000 budget for the next two years. The governor recommended 157 million in new taxes to balance it.

A dozen new bills to carry out economy proposals of the Chesterman Committee were introduced in the Senate. They included measures to consolidate the health, welfare and public assistance departments; to abolish the State Milk Control Commission and the office of the secretary of internal affairs and placing state teachers colleges under the Department of Public Instruction. This would make boards of trustees advisory boards.

The annual session bill was the first piece of major legislation passed by the Senate during the 1953 session which started its 13th week yesterday. The House also has passed but one major bill, the Constitution Convention Bill.

Harrisburg (AP) — Strict state supervision of "hot rods" or other "souped-up" motor vehicles was urged last night in a bill introduced in the House.

Scarantino, Truck Driver Involved In Fatal Accident, Lost Driving Privileges In 1952

Washington, N. J. (AP) — State police said yesterday the New Jersey driving privileges of John J. Scarantino, driver of the truck which wiped out a family of 10 over the weekend, was revoked indefinitely last year.

State Police Lt. J. J. Harris said the privileges were taken away when Scarantino, a resident of Scaranton, Pa., failed to appear in magistrate's court to answer a New Jersey charge of passing on a curve.

"It's ironical," Harris said, that he is again involved in a similar violation."

Scarantino, who lists his age as 21, was driver of the truck that collided with a car Friday night, killing Clarence Matlock, a Silver Lake dairy farmer, and nine members of his family.

Harris said Scarantino was at-

U. S., Czechs Attack Each Other In U. N.

United Nations, N. Y., (AP) — The Soviet Union and Red Czechoslovakia dropped their new mild tones yesterday and for three hours assailed the United States with Communist charges of U. S. subversion against Iron Curtain countries.

Their blasts sounded like old times here and dimmed the budding peace hopes of some delegates.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., American delegate, fired back in the U. N. Political Committee that the Communists do not appear with "clean hands." He said the Communist subversion of the Czechoslovak democratic state in 1948 was one of the "most glaring examples of subversion in modern times."

In sharp contrast to the recent peaceful words of the new Communist boss, Prime Minister Georgi Malenkov, two representatives of the Soviet bloc scathingly blasted the U. S. on charges that Washington is prompting subversion and espionage in Communist countries, arming traitors to fight against them, and otherwise doing its best to upset the present governments.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate who has been quiet for days apparently preparing yesterday's speech, charged that the U. S., by approving the Mutual Security Act of 1951, committed an aggressive act. He said its backers acted like "butchers" by planning to use armed refugees against the Iron Curtain governments.

Gromyko was particularly bitter at the United States with charges that it had gone back on its old policy of freedom for all. He said that the Statue of Liberty now should bear the sign: "Abandon hope all ye who enter here."

Lodge snapped back that the best answer to Gromyko is to see how many people in the United States want to leave this country. Czechoslovakia's foreign minister, Vaclav David, started the Communist speeches against the U. S. with a long list of charges, all of which have been heard before in the U. N. His speech prompted Lodge to recite the events of the Communist coup d'etat in Prague in 1948.

"With this record hung around their necks," Lodge said, "the present rulers of Czechoslovakia who introduced this resolution criticizing the United States, do not come into court with clean hands. Their charges, therefore, are not to be believed."

David introduced a resolution by which the Assembly would call on the U. S. to rescind the Mutual Security Act of 1951 and cease all the alleged activities growing out of it. Lodge said the Red charges were false and urged the committee to reject the resolution.

Senate Approves Big Money Bill

Washington (AP) — Senate passage of a conference report yesterday sent off its way to the White House a $943,298,728 supplemental appropriations bill — the first money bill passed by the Congress this year.

The measure carries funds to run numerous government agencies for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30.

Congress cut it sharply below the $2,327,521,114 asked by former President Truman, who submitted the measure before leaving office.

Moscow Radio Halts Peace Propaganda

London (AP) — The Moscow radio suddenly switched off its peace propaganda last night and lashed out on the old line, declaring the projected Western European army is an instrument of American imperialism.

Broadcasting in German, Moscow aimed this time for an audience in West Germany, whose Bundestag — lower house of parliament — has just ratified the army pact treaty.

Burgoyne said Scarantino had a previous bad driving record in Pennsylvania. According to records, Scarantino drove a truck through a red light in Dunmore, Pa., on June 3, 1952, and paid a fine of $5 and costs.

Scarantino's first New Jersey arrest occurred, police said, Feb. 6, 1952, near Roxbury, Morris County. He was slated to appear Feb. 17, 1952, before Magistrate Thomas Vetter, Succasunna.

THERE ARE 42 CHILDREN IN THIS ROOM. There's only one big trouble—it really isn't a whole room. Actually, it is only half of what used to be the reading room at Chestnut Hill High School where overcrowding has made it necessary to cram children into too-small spaces. When it is built, the new Pleasant Valley High School, incorporating this township and four others, will unburden this school and Polk's equally strained high school building. Photo shows a few of the things wrong with such congestion: lack of sufficient working space; elimination of emergency aisles; unhealthy, unsanitary cramming of children together in tight spaces. Mrs. Grace Thompson, teacher of these sixth graders, and other instructors at the school, fight an endless battle to keep down highly contagious diseases; attempt to carry on normal processes of education under sub-normal conditions. McCarthy Calls On Bohlen To Take Lie Test As Ike Stands Pat On Nomination

Washington, (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) proposed in the Senate yesterday that Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen take a lie detector test to prove whether he is a good security risk.

McCarthy made his suggestion as the Senate opened debate on the question of confirming Bohlen's appointment as U. S. ambassador to Russia, one of the most important posts in the diplomatic service.

Majority Leader Taft of Ohio is pressing for a confirmation vote by Wednesday at the latest. He reported President Eisenhower is standing pat on Bohlen's nomination, and that the veteran State Department career officer probably would be confirmed by a comfortable margin.

McCarthy said if Bohlen passed a lie detector test he would be willing to forget about some derogatory information in Bohlen's FBI file, information which the senator said made him wonder whether Bohlen was a good security risk.

But even then, McCarthy added, he wouldn't vote for Bohlen because he was "part and parcel" of the Democratic regime of Dean Acheson in the State Department. McCarthy conceded Bohlen probably would be confirmed despite all protests. Truman Democrats will vote for him, he said, and Republicans who don't want to oppose an Eisenhower appointment will "hold their noses" and go along.

Bohlen has been in diplomatic service for 24 years. At Yalta he was President Roosevelt's Russian language translator and also served as an adviser.

The debate grew the largest gallery crowd of the year thus far, and there was standing room only. Spectators applauded when Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) told McCarthy:

"We have on trial a Republican secretary of state and by implication the Republican President of the United States. I just would like to suggest to the junior senator from Wisconsin that he give this administration a chance . . ."

The crowd also applauded when McCarthy replied, "I don't think the President is right. He is doing an excellent job—his batting average is very high."

Lenten Meditation

By Rev. B. H. Hostetter
Christian And Missionary Alliance

"This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: Hear ye Him."—Matthew 17:5.

On three occasions the voice from Heaven was heard declaring, "This is My beloved Son." Christ was not a mere man. He was the Son of God. He was like God.

"In whom I am well pleased." Christ was without sin. Man in his sinful state cannot please God. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God."

"Hear ye Him." Since Christ is the son of God, well pleasing to God, He has something to say to us. Jesus told Nicodemus, "Ye must be born again." That is also His message to us today.

We must be transformed in heart and life before we can please God. This change can come only through a power outside of ourselves. "By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: It is the gift of God."

Former Local Priest Killed In Car Crash

Rev. Robert C. Mulherin, whose first assignment as a Roman Catholic priest was as assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg about 1940, has been killed in an automobile crash in Los Angeles, Cal., according to press dispatches.

He was born March 12, 1912, a son of the late Patrick and Catherine Connelly Mulherin, and after graduating from St. Gabriel's Parochial School, Hazleton, entered St. Bonaventure College (now University), Olean, N. Y.

He received his theological training at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, Md., and was ordained into the priesthood in May, 1940, in St. Peter's Cathedral, Scranton, by Bishop William J. Haffey.

Father Mulherin remained at St. Matthew's Church until he entered the Army as a chaplain April 7, 1945, with the rank of first lieutenant.

He left the Army as a captain in 1949 and on June 23 that year was named assistant pastor of St. Ignatius Church, Kingston, where he remained until 1950. He served six months as assistant pastor at St. Patrick's Church, Olyphant. He then returned to St. Matthew's until transferred to St. Theresa's Church, Wilkes-Barre, June 24, 1952.

Because of failing health resulting from a highway crash three years ago near Wilkes-Barre, he was granted a leave of absence by Bishop Haffey last Sept. 12.

Press dispatches indicated Father Mulherin's car ran out of control and ran into an 18-foot open ditch.

He had been staying with a brother in Los Angeles where he assisted in parish work of the Los Angeles archdiocese.

Dutch Treat Club Hears Robert Christopher Describe Events Of $80 Trip Around World

Trials and travels of a man who rounded the globe on $80 were described to Dutch Treat Club members in Stroudsburg last night by the man who made the trip. He was Robert Christopher, 27, who decided to try to duplicate the Jules Verne character, Phinias Fogg, who made a round-the-world-in-80-days try in the 19th century.

Fogg spent a lot of money getting around. Christopher held his grubstake down to $80 given him by a magazine which agreed to publish his story. If he made it. He did, he explained last night. He worked his way across the Atlantic aboard a plane by doing paper work for the airline. He moved on toward Germany, hitchhiked along the autobahn toward Italy. He bought a trainride through the Simplon tunnel with four packs of cigarets.

Some of the trip's high points: hitching a ride with the prince of Iraq; being arrested as a spy in Jordan; riding across the Afghanistan border with dope smugglers; photographing an "opium den" in Hong Kong; riding a camel caravan through Pakistan; seeing the Taj Mahal by moonlight.

The Pacific proved a small barrier; he worked his way across on a freighter. On the West Coast he started cross-country with $4.50.

He arrived in New York, last stop, with 60 cents... spent it for a ride to his apartment—in a taxi.

Elapsed time: 84 days.

DL&W's Net Income Hits 23-Year High

New York, (AP)—The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad yesterday reported that net income for 1952, before deductions for capital and sinking funds, was at the highest level since 1929.

The carrier said that including a tax credit for accelerated amortization, net income for the 12 months climbed to $6,601,761 equal to $3.91 a common share, compared with $6,371,864 or $3.77 in 1951. Deducting for capital and sinking funds left profits of $1.03 per share in 1952 against 54 cents in the preceding year.

The carrier also reported gross revenues at a record of 93 million dollars, about 4 per cent above 1951 figures.

Concerning a possible merger with the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad, of whose common stock the Lackawanna owns 330,000 shares or 14 per cent of the voting stock, the company said "merger discussions would not be in order under present conditions."

Depot To Hire Hundreds Of Construction Workers

Tobyhanna—Employment of construction workers by firms building the $33,000,000 U. S. Signal Corps depot here is expected to mushroom in about two weeks, according to Lt. Col. Charles S. Tucker, resident engineer.

Col. Tucker estimated there are 900 workers at the depot site today. The full complement at the height of construction will top 2,800, it is believed.

In recent weeks, the vast project has been slowed because the sea of mud prohibited free movement of traffic. With the ground improving the depot work is expected to move full steam ahead shortly.

Next week, workers probably will begin pouring concrete for the walled sections of the administration building and various other structures. Col. Tucker said all foundations are in and work from now until completion will be above ground, excepting installation of steam and water pipes.

Kaiser-Frazer To Buy Willys

New York (AP)—Kaiser-Frazer Corp. last night announced a plan to purchase the business of Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., for an estimated $62,300,000.

The transaction was described as "one of the largest of its kind in the history of the auto industry."

It will make Kaiser-Frazer the fourth largest auto producer in the world.

The deal is subject to approval by Willys-Overland common stockholders. It is expected to be completed next month.

Kitten's Tail Stops Washer

St. Louis (AP)—For Kitty, the curious cat, it was a blue Monday. Agitators on Mrs. Charles H. Ringwald's washing machine suddenly ground to a halt yesterday morning. The electric fuse blew.

Anguished yowls rent the air. Underneath the machine, Mrs. Ringwald found Kitty, highly perturbed and her tail firmly caught in the machine's belt.

Mrs. Ringwald had to call the humane society for help. Officer Bob Randolph had to turn the machine on its side before he could free Kitty by reversing the gears.

Driver Empties Gas Into Sewer

Youngstown, O. (AP)—The driver of a gasoline delivery truck, stopping at a customer station yesterday, stuck the hose into the tank pipe. Six thousand gallons of gasoline went down the drain.

Firemen, police and East Ohio Gas Co. employees were aroused by telephone calls as neighbors in the vicinity reported fumes pouring from cellar sewers. Firemen had to open water hydrants for more than an hour to flush out the sewers. The gasoline was valued at $1,700.

Civil Service Officers At Tobyhanna

3,500 Workers To Be Placed In Depot Jobs

Tobyhanna—Personnel directors who will supervise the giant hiring program for the Civil Service Commission at the $33,000,000 U. S. Signal Corps depot here moved in yesterday and set the wheels of production in motion.

Headed by Nicholas W. Williams as personnel chief, assisted by William Howard, the extensive hiring program still is in its infancy with about 175 persons forming the skeleton staff. Operations will continue until about July 1 in this manner, Williams said, until the preliminary work can be consummated.

With about 3,500 civilian workers to be utilized in manning the huge depot, applications are rolling in daily but it was indicated yesterday there are no openings yet.

The skeleton force was hired from civil service workers in the area and others who were recruited through the Monroe County branch office of Pennsylvania State Employment Service. "This group has been named on a 30-day appointed basis, Williams said, with no assurance of civil service permanent positions.

"If they qualify for positions which will be opening shortly, they will join the ranks," he said. A few positions, such as six firemen, have been placed under civil service.

Most jobs at the depot will be handled through civil service, with applications being processed by the commission's headquarters in Philadelphia. But there may be other jobs not listed on the commission's rolls which will be filled by recruiting locally, Williams said.

The sustaining program of employment beginning July 1 will be subject to specific calls by the Civil Service Commission. Lists of job openings, requirements and salaries will be released through The Daily Record when the calls are issued.

Father, Son Flee To West Germany

Berlin (AP)—A desperate East German father and his son hacked down a frontier fence with axes and raced their truck into West Berlin last night during a brief period when the crossing was not closed.

It was the second spectacular escape of the day from East Berlin, and the third time in a week that trucks have crashed through the frontier, defying possible death from Communist police armed with machine pistols.

The father and son crashed through at the Lichtenfelde crossing, the same crossing that was used by Communists as an exit for the kidnapping of Dr. Walter Linse, anti-Communist member of the Free Jurists League, from West Berlin last July.

Dr. W. R. Erickson will be away from his office until further notice.

Girl Fractures Arm In Fall From See-Saw

A three and a half-year-old girl who fell from a see-saw and fractured her right arm was among four persons treated in the dispensary at Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, over the weekend. The injured girl is June McWilliams, Stroudsburg RD3.

Others treated were Frank E. Koren, N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, aged 5. He suffered a laceration over the left eye.

Also Evan Diehl, 39, Pearl St., Stroudsburg, who received a contusion and laceration of the tip of his left index finger when struck by a sledge hammer.

Harold LaBar, 54, of Bangor RD2, fell about 15 feet from a scaffold and suffered contusion of the chest, abrasion of the left leg and bruise of the scalp.

Jane Lipe Wins Club's March Award

Safety was the subject of one of two films shown last night to the East Stroudsburg Exchange Club.

It was part of the program put on by Russell Kresge, safety adviser, State Department of Highways, Allentown.

The other film dealt with highway maintenance.

Girl-of-the-month award went to Jane Lipe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lipe, Spring St., East Stroudsburg.

Four new members were installed by Howard Young, Pen Argyl, former district governor. They were William Altier, Harry Crouse, Gersham Litts and Lawrence Schenberger.

Grass Fires Extinguished

Stroud Township firemen put out two blazes—one over the weekend and one yesterday.

Yesterday's fire was near Lee's sand pit, at rear of Pinebrook, on the Mount Zion-Pinebrook Rd., at 11:30 a.m. About half an acre was burned off.

The weekend blaze was at rear of the Thomas Rinehart property on Bridge St., Stroudsburg.

Another small grass fire was reported over the weekend near 755 Bryant St., Stroudsburg. Firemen extinguished it.

2 Candidates Withdraw On Last Day

Two candidates for nomination withdrew their petitions yesterday, the last day for withdrawal.

Emory Getz, Lakeside Republican, withdrew as candidate for supervisor of Tobyhanna Township. John Vashlishan, Tobyhanna Democrat, withdrew as candidate for Coolbaugh Township constable "due to his work at the Signal Depot."

Clerks said there were only three withdrawals in the county, including yesterday's. The other was a withdrawal by a Hamilton Township candidate who then put in a petition for a different office.

Harrisburg (AP)—The Republican Party avoided a state-wide contest at the May 19 primary yesterday by withdrawal of Judge W. Walter Braham, of the Lawrence County Common Pleas Court, as a candidate for the OP nomination for Superior Court.

Judge Braham, who filed for the $23,000 appellate court nomination last Monday on the last day, also withdrew his nominating petitions on the last day at the State Election Bureau.

Braham's action left Judge J. Colvin Wright, Bedford, and Judge Harold G. Ervin of the Delaware County Common Pleas Court, unopposed for the party nomination at the May primary.

The Democrats also have two unopposed candidates, Judge W. C. Sheely, Adams County Common Pleas Court, and Judge John L. Hook, Greene County Common Pleas Court.

Voters will elect two Superior Court judges to 10-year terms in the fall election.

Crowe Co-Authors Measure To Establish Fish Hatchery In Wayne Or Pike County

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Legislature was asked last night to establish a fish hatchery in Wayne or Pike County to stock Lake Wallenpaupack with game fish.

"Lake Wallenpaupack could become a fisherman's paradise and a tourists' mecca if the fishing were improved," said Sen. Hugh J. McMenamin (D-Lackawanna) in introducing a bill.

Co-sponsored by Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe (R-Monroe), the measure would require the state fish commission to appropriate $250,000 from its fish fund to acquire property and build the hatchery.

Overcrowded Schools

Population in Monroe is on the upgrade, just as it is in all other areas of the country.

This means—among other things — there are more children to be educated; more children born each year who will enter school a few years later.

While the population continues to expand, however, Monroe county schools for the most part are the same, tired buildings which housed present-day schoolchildren's parents. Unlike human beings, schoolhouses don't grow old and die. They must be condemned, altered or replaced to make room for new, unmoled bodies and minds which constantly turn to their doors.

Typical of overcrowded schools today is Chestnuthill school at Brodheadsville. Principal John Mills and his teachers have worked hard to combat stifling, sardine-packed schoolrooms. But neither Mills nor his teachers is a miracle worker. When you have a building, there's only one place you can go—to the limits of its four walls. This they have done.

They have split rooms in two, partitioned them and made them into separate classrooms. Then they have been forced to cram 40 or 50 pupils into each of the half-rooms.

To do this, the children must sit in tightly-packed rows of desks—two in a desk in one room—facing each other, backed to the wall. Next year, it will be even worse, Mills says. With a constantly-rising enrollment, there will be as many as 70 pupils in one room at Chestnuthill.

And Chestnuthill is not the only school to feel the cramp. Polk has a similar problem, according to its principal, Harry Young.

There is only one solution to the current situation. That is a new school building.

If things work out properly, this solution will soon become a reality. Chestnuthill, Polk, Hamilton, Ross and Eldred townships are now joined under the Pleasant Valley Joint School System. Board members are now attempting to buy ground for their proposed joint high school.

Today county school board members will take a look at the potential site. We hope, earnestly, that some site — wherever it may be—will be chosen immediately.

Growing children need room in which to grow—physically and mentally. Crowded rooms are a big block to healthy, unwarped minds and bodies.

Let's stop delaying. Let's stop treating children like livestock.

They are human beings — part of the People — and they're not to be pushed around!

One Guess Is Enough

Some 77.3 per cent of traffic checked by State Highway Department East of Stroudsburg on Rt. 611 during August, 1951 was "through traffic."

Another 56.3 per cent checked West of Stroudsburg at the same time and on the same route was "through traffic."

None of them had any intention, they told checkers, of stopping in Stroudsburg.

They were just surplus traffic jamming the business section of the borough.

Wonder what's going to happen when the new four-lane Delaware River bridge is completed at Delaware Water Gap? We'll give you—and the State Highway Department—just one guess.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

That Baseball Switch

It might be well for baseball fans to check on their home baseball clubs and see if they are still there. There were a few when a loyal rooster could go to bed at night knowing that the club would be found in the morning where he had left it. But there is no telling from now on in Boston they are paddocking Bunker Hill, putting a guard on the Commons and asking an hourly check to make sure Milwaukee hasn't claimed Paul Revere, because some operator can do better with the horse in the Western atmosphere. The old verse is being revised to read:

Here's to the City of Boston —
The home of the cod and the "beanie,"
Where the Lowells speak only to Cabots
And NOBODY SPEAKS TO PERINI.

The hard thing to figure out is why the American League indignantly rejected the plan to switch the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore because the 1953 season was too near, and the National League smugly okayed the Boston-Milwaukee switch with the season's opening 72 hours nearer. Is this a hint that the clocks in National League towns run slower, or that fans there care less about what time it is? The American League blocked Bill Veck's transfer on a dozen reasons, none of which was even mentioned by the National League in permitting Perini to make his switch. Evidently the winds are considered more favorable behind a club moving west than one moving east. Veck was thrown out on an attempted slide from first base in St. Louis to second base in Baltimore. But Perini was given a "walk"—the longest walk in baseball history, clear from Massachusetts to Wisconsin! What goes?

It doesn't make sense to the average man, and even Congress is talking of an inquiry to see why the scoreboard should say "Left on bases" in the case of Veck, and "Intentional pass" in the case of Lou Perini. It's been a drab and depressing season of Congressional inquiries, and a probe into why baseball operators don't behave like other human beings might give a welcome touch of lightness to the spring season generally. We would be especially interested in the answers to the question: "Do you favor numbering the club owners instead of the ballplayers so there may be less confusion among the spectators?" Also "If it is okay for Perini to hit one 800 miles to left field, why isn't it okay for Veck to knock one a similar distance in an opposite direction?"

Until today, all the major league ball clubs had been supposed to have permanent places of residence. A fan never had to look into a phone book to see if it was still at the same old place. The question on "Do the Braves still live around here?" or "Whatever became of the Browns?" was never thought of. There is consternation among rosters everywhere and we have even run across a Brooklyn fan who has a terrorizing fear that a day may come when he will go to Ebbets Field and be told, "The Bums are residing in Chicago now. Hadn't you heard?" The ballplayers might be tourists but the franchises never were.

The prospect of big-league ball clubs being "AWOL" is hard to take, especially in the bleachers, and there will be a revolution in skirtsleeves the day these loyal roosters show up at New York, Pittsburgh or Philadelphia and find the whole outfit has moved to the Canal Zone.

We trust and hope that the switches will not become epidemic and that all club owners will be prevented from moving the entire club during a pitcher's windup. May we never read a baseball story beginning, "The Giants went four innings against the Phillies in New York today but the last five innings were played between two other clubs in Yokomo, due to changes in the business situation."

A bill to license chiropractors has been killed by New York State, one of the few permitting them to practice without a test of any kind. The motto is evidently, "Every backbone for itself." The Braves were in Boston 82 years. That's a long time to wait for positive proof that a team is really going some place. It is now proposed that Uncle Sam send a weekly check to all families where there are three or more children.

Robert S. Allen Reports
'Personal Hazard' Causes Congress To Duck A-Tests

Washington — The Atomic Energy Commission has run into a curious problem with Congress.

The Commission is having little luck inducing the lawmakers to attend the tests on the great firing range in Nevada.

Only a handful of the legislators have accepted the Commission's cordial invitation, which went to every member of the Senate and House and which includes free transportation, hotel accommodations and other expenses.

Reason for this strange coolness toward this enticing junket may be a disquieting warning tucked away in a booklet issued by the Commission.

This foreboding item is about a "personal hazard" that is involved in witnessing the explosions.

The booklet explains this danger is not from the atomic weapon itself. Ample measures are taken to protect all witnesses from harm from that. The possibility of death or injury arises from the jet and propeller-type drone planes used in the experiments.

These remote-controlled aircraft fly through the clouds of smoke and dust that follow an explosion to obtain scientific data. There is always the danger that one of these drones may crash. That hasn't happened so far, but it could—particularly where large numbers of them are used, as is being done in these tests.

This "personal hazard" is pointed out quietly but clearly in the booklet which the Commission sent every member of Congress after they had been invited to the tests.

Prior to that about half of them had indicated intention to attend the firings. But after the booklet was distributed, this enthusiasm vanished. The Commission has been able to drum up few takers of its alluring invitation.

However, it's still hoping to have better luck next month. The tests which the legislators can witness are scheduled for April 11, April 25, May 17 and May 21, the last will be the most momentous of the series. It will be the one in which an atomic shell will be fired from a giant 280mm field gun.

The Commission's booklet gave the lawmakers some classified information on the size of the atomic weapons being tested in the current series. Also other heretofore unpublished facts.

More Mystery—That story controversy over an ammunition shortage in Korea is becoming more and more baffling.

Latest eye-popper came from the Marines.

They say their famous 1st Marine Division, which has seen heavy fighting on all Korean fronts, "has not experienced an actual shortage of ammunition which prevented or seriously hindered the Division from executing its assigned missions."

That isn't all!

What makes this pronouncement truly stunning is the fact that in Korea the Marines get their ammunition from the Army—which has been charged with failing to keep the fighting men adequately supplied with ammunition.

The Senate Armed Services Subcommittee, which is investigating the reputed shortage, is frankly stumped by this amazing situation. The Committee was apprised of it in an official communication from the Marine Corps Commandant. Highlights of this unpublished report are as follows:

"Inasmuch as the Marine Corps does not actually supply ammunition to the 1st Marine Division in Korea, we have no official knowledge on the capacity of the ammunition pipeline in the Korean theatre or the supply levels being maintained there. However, based on the periodic reports of the 1st Marine Division, the actual experiences of Marine Corps officers who have served in Korea in capacities which would provide them with first-hand knowledge of the ammunition supply, and reports of observers from Marine Headquarters, we do gain a general knowledge of the ammunition supply problems of the 1st Marine Division.

"From these sources it is possible to provide these conclusions: The 1st Marine Division has not experienced an actual shortage of ammunition which prevented or seriously hindered that Division from executing its assigned missions."

Tideband Battle—The tideland oil bill faces a long talk fest in the Senate—despite those details of its foes that they intend to filibuster.

They may not call it that, but they are secretly planning a debate that will run at least a month and may last longer, if they can manage to drag it out.

The protracted discussion will be conducted in the guise of "educating the people" on the numerous issues involved in the bitter controversy.

This canny strategy was mapped out at a meeting of the group that is spearheading the fight against giving the oil-rich submerged lands to the states. Leaders of the bloc are Senators Lister Hill (D-Ala.) and Clinton Anderson (D-N.M.).

"We can lick this grab," declared Anderson, "if we get our case over to the country. That's why it is so crucial that we prevent a rush vote. The backers of this legislation are doing everything in their power to ram it through. We mustn't let them get away with that."

Mere Membership In Communist Party Is No Crime, Therefore It Can Be Admitted

What Incriminates?

It is lawful to be a member of the Communist Party. No person commits a felony or even a misdemeanor when he joins such a party. It is lawful to be an officer of this party, although each individual is responsible for his acts, as each individual is always responsible for his personal conduct. Freedom does not lessen responsibility.

It is difficult to understand why so many American citizens before Congressional committees take refuge under the Fifth Amendment on the ground that to admit membership in the Communist Party would incriminate them. Of what crime? Mere membership is no crime. Why then should membership be an incrimination, per se?

Take for instance this colloquy before the McCarthy Committee:

"The Chairman: . . . At the time that you were a professor at Columbia University, were you a member of the Communist Party?"

"Mr. Donald Henderson: I must refuse to answer that question on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me, sir."

"The Chairman: We have been having considerable testimony in regard to a Mr. Reed Harris, who attended Columbia at the time you did. Let me ask you this. At the time Mr. Reed Harris and three others spoke at a meeting objecting to your being removed from the faculty at Columbia, were you then a member of the Communist Party?"

"Mr. Henderson: I must refuse to answer that question on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me, sir."

Unless a man has committed a crime, about which he knows but no one else knows, he cannot incriminate himself by saying that he had committed no crime. Most of us do not commit crimes. Therefore, when he refuses to answer, taking refuge under the Fifth Amendment, he gives the impression of knowing that he might incriminate himself, while no one is accusing him of anything. It looks bad for him.

To ask a man whether he happens to be a member of the Republican, Democratic, or Communist Party is not to accuse him of a crime. In fact, it could be a yes or no answer. The example of the testimony of Professor Wendell Hinkle Furry before the House Committee on Un-American Activities might be cited as an example of how curiously these men think. This is a sample colloquy:

"Mr. Jackson. Were you ever a member of the German-American Bund?"

"Mr. Furry. No, sir."

"Mr. Jackson. Were you a member of the Silver Shirts?"

"Mr. Furry. No, sir."

"Mr. Jackson. Were you a member of the Communist Party?"

"Mr. Furry. I refuse to answer that on the grounds I have stated before."

Why can he give a direct. No answer to the questions concerning the German-American Bund and Silver Shirts, but he takes refuge under the Fifth Amendment and refuses to answer when it comes to the Communist Party? If to answer about the German-American Bund and the Silver Shirts does not incriminate, why should an answer concerning the Communist Party incriminate?

The logic of that position is not clear.

Portugal occupies 34,415 square miles, but its overseas possessions in Africa and Asia occupy more than 20 times as much territory.

10 Years 20 Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

When I was a child, my parents warned me against the use of four-letter words.

It seems that many of the naughty words, as we call them when we talk to kids, or FILTHY words as we term them when grown-ups use them, consist of four letters.

Unfortunately, these four-letter words are still very popular among many people, who consider it manly to cuss, daring to use filthy language.

However, there is a new word which I think might be incorporated in our lingo.

It isn't a four-letter word to be sure, but it will answer many purposes.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida of Japan used it the other day when he called an opposing member of the Diet, "Bakayaro."

I have read quite a few stories about the affair. In every one of them "bakayaro" was translated differently, so it appears that the word has many meanings.

The correct one, I am told, is "stupid idiot" and with this meaning it can become a very useful term.

In Japan, Yoshida's use of the word caused quite a flurry of indignation.

But then the Japanese people are known for their politeness. We are accustomed to much stronger language when we don't like a fellow.

I had a little argument with the tax collector this recent Judgment Day.

He insisted on my paying something which I had deducted. I argued and argued, but it didn't do any good.

First Of 300 Youngsters Lose Tonsils

Six youngsters underwent tonsilectomies in the General Hospital yesterday to become the first of 300 county children scheduled for similar operations in a program arranged by county nurses, several physicians and the hospital.

Adopted as a project of the Monroe County Nurses Association, the mass production schedule of tonsil operations was instituted to aid the health program of Monroe County school children.

Yesterday's initial operations were the first listed, according to Anne Shafer, Nurses Association president. After screening by physicians to determine the seriousness of the child's condition, similar operations will be performed. It is expected, Mrs. Shafer said, that each Monday morning a group of youngsters will undergo surgery.

According to Mrs. Shafer the backlog of school children in Monroe who were listed by their school physicians as in need of tonsilectomies, grew to too great a proportion and the action was necessary.

The children's ward at the hospital had been closed because of lack of nurses, superintendent Harry Smith confirmed. And its facilities were made available to the nursing association.

Two county physicians, Dr. Thomas I. Metzgar and Dr. William M. Simons volunteered to assist with surgery. Yesterday Dr. Metzgar performed the six operations.

Miss Helen Kulp, executive secretary of Child Health in the county, also aided by providing lists of children in need of treatment and the nurses corps decided to offer their services free of charge by staying on duty around-the-clock after the operations.

After the six children underwent the operation at 6 a.m. yesterday, the nurses came on duty and worked shifts until early this morning. Assisting were Esther Musselman, Carol Riley, Mary Buzenli, Charlotte Newhart, Marian Field, Helen Menseh and Mrs. Shafer.

Miss Betty Jane Avery of 3 East Sixth St., East Stroudsburg, and Richard Quick, now stationed with the U. S. Navy in Norfolk, Va., were married in a pretty Spring wedding on Sunday, March 22, at 2 p. m. at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton performed the double ring ceremony before a candlelit altar, which was decorated with bouquets of white snapdragons. Ernest Michelsfelder was the organist and Mrs. Anne George, soloist. She sang "I Love You" and "Because" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" while the bride and bridegroom knelt for the wedding prayers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Orr, of Ardmore, and of William M. Avery, of East Stroudsburg. Mr. Quick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quick of 167 Elizabeth St., East Stroudsburg.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Robert Lowery, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white lace and nylon net with a tight-fitting bodice over its floating skirt. She wore matching lace mitts and her fingertip veil of nylon net fell from a Dutch crown of seed pearls.

She was attended by Mrs. Jessie Lowery, of Morristown, as matron-of-honor, and by Mrs. Rosemary Neal, East Stroudsburg, bridesmaid. Mrs. Lowery wore a blue gown of nylon net with a matching picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations and gladioli. Mrs. Neal wore yellow nylon net, also with matching picture hat and a colonial bouquet of green carnations and gladioli.

Charles Schaller, of East Stroudsburg, was the best man and Willard Butz, cousin of the bride, of East Stroudsburg, and Harold Akers, of Delaware Water Gap, an uncle of the bridegroom, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a pale dress of light blue with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a silk print dress in green with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the social room of the VFW Home, for about 150 guests. The bride's table was decorated with bouquets of white snapdragons, and centered with a three-tier wedding cake. Ernest Bittenbender's orchestra played for the dancing.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Quick left for a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling the bride wore a gray and navy blue dress with navy accessories and a corsage of white orchids. On their return, the bride will live at 3 East Sixth St., East Stroudsburg while Mr. Quick is in service.

They are both graduates of East Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1950. The bride is employed by Bell Telephone Co., of Stroudsburg, and Mr. Quick is fireman on an LST, stationed at Norfolk.

CAVALCADE OF NURSES was arranged by the Women's Auxiliary to the Monroe County Medical Society at their Nurse Recruitment Tea for county high school girls held at the General Hospital. Seated from left to right: Mrs. Virginia DePuy, public health nursing; Miss Renee Platt, student nurse, and Miss Naomi Hauser, director of nursing, and Miss Susan Butler, student nurse, of St. Luke's, Bethlehem; standing, same order, Lt. Nurses-To-Be Shown Fields Of Service

At a Nurse Recruitment Tea at the General Hospital on Sunday afternoon the Women's Auxiliary to the Monroe County Medical Society entertained 54 high school girls who had expressed interest in nursing as a career.

They were sophomore, junior and senior girls from Barrett, Tobyhanna, Pocono Township, Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High Schools.

A tour of the hospital, something of the training which nurses undertake, and some of the ways in which they serve were shown during the afternoon.

The tour of the hospital opened the program with members of the staff explaining the work in each department. Mrs. Walter H. Caulfield then welcomed the girls and thanked Harry Smith, superintendent of the hospital and Miss Ada Banks, director of nurses, for their part in making the tea possible.

Miss Naomi Hauser, director of nurses at St. Luke's Hospital Training School, Bethlehem, presented two of her nurses in training, both graduates of Stroudsburg High School, Miss Renee Platt and Miss Sue Butler.

Mrs. David Kohn presented a "Cavalcade of Nursing" with Miss Katharine Roos, of the General Hospital, as an operating room nurse; Mrs. Horace Butler as an industrial nurse; Mrs. Virginia Culver DePuy, executive director of Monroe County Organization Public Health Nursing; and Lt. (Senior Grade) Gladys Merwin of the Naval Dispensary in Atlantic City, N. J.; and Capt. Mary P. Kent, of the Army Nurse Procurement Office in Philadelphia.

Following brief talks by each of the nurses on their branch of service, a film on the "Career of an Army Nurse" was shown.

After the program, the girls were entertained at tea where they were given an opportunity to meet and talk with the nurses present.

Mrs. Walter M. Brenholtz, of Hellertown, district councilor was the special guest of the Auxiliary at the tea.

Mrs. David Kohn, Mrs. R. Frederick Jones and Mrs. John Runsey were co-chairmen of the general committee with Mrs. Philip Ehrig, Mrs. R. Frederick Jones, Mrs. E. O. Hendrick, Mrs. John Martucci, Mrs. David Kohn and Mrs. Walter Caulfield on the reception committee.

Mrs. Marshall Metzgar and Mrs. William Levering were in charge of decorations; Mrs. John Martucci and Mrs. James Kitchen II of transportation; Mrs. Horace G. Butler, Mrs. T. J. Metzgar and Mrs. Harold S. Pond of invitations; and Miss Ada Banks, Mrs. John Runsey and Mrs. Evan Reese of tours.

Thursday night is choir practice night, and every church will be humming as choirs, junior and senior, practice for their Easter cantatas or special numbers. And the high school kids are still "Hi-lew-ing, Hi-lew-ing." Tom Waring's catchy tune from last week's "Pastimes."

Friday night is the Community Concert—now don't get confused—with the Rochester Civic Orchestra at the college auditorium.

And already the pressure is on the Kiwanians to get busy selling tickets for the concert by "The Schuberts" on April 9.

Not to mention the increasing tempo of the school band rehearsals preparing for their spring concert, the young piano students increasing their practice sessions in preparation for the spring recitals.

But you can hear this county humming with music all the way up to the stratosphere. And in all this symphony of sound, the only contribution I can make is sort of a death rattle as I cough and the theme song, "I'm dead but I won't lie down."

Bulk Of Trucks, Cars Moving Into Boroughs Classified As Through Traffic, Survey Shows

By Leonard Randolph

(This is second in a series of articles on traffic congestion in and through the Stroudsburgs, based on information contained in a survey by State Department of Highways.)

Operating as the hub of Monroe County's varied industrial production, Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg are a multi-million dollar going concern.

But both boroughs are operating on a penny-ante through-traffic system which moves like a horse and buggy. Especially on tourist-crowded Summer days.

In 1951, Pennsylvania Department of Highways interviewers conducted a survey of Stroudsburg's bedeviled traffic setup on request of Borough Council. It was spread over a full week in the typical month of August.

They counted 47,512 vehicle trips in the area—39,416 by auto and taxi; the remaining 8,096 by trucks.

A "cordon line" was thrown up around the borough. Interviewers counted the vehicles crossing that line at 11 major stations.

A total of 32,110 vehicle trips were recorded as crossing the survey cordon line.

Of these, 10,574 or 32.9 per cent, continued through the area without making a single major stop. That doesn't count the number of times the vehicles had to wait for knotted traffic to untie itself and lumber on its way.

At two central stations located on U. S. Route 611 west and east of Stroudsburg, interviews discovered that "through traffic" (those vehicles intending only to pass through on their way to another destination) made up the biggest bulk of vehicles.

More than half (53.6 per cent) of all traffic checked northwest of Stroudsburg on 611 was merely passing through.

And 77.3 per cent of all traffic checked southeast of Stroudsburg on 611 was "through traffic."

None of these vehicles, presumably, had any intention of stopping to shop or eat in Stroudsburg. If any had originally entertained such an idea, chances are good that by the time they had "bucked traffic" all the way down Foxtown Hill or all the way down Lackawanna Trail through Main St., the idea was thoroughly forgotten.

As has been previously mentioned, the State department's survey was made in August, 1951. August is not a peak month in the Poconos. Traffic is heavier several times during the year—Memorial Day or Labor Day, for example.

So State interviewers were getting a comparatively mild view of what residents and tourists alike go through each year.

They didn't, for example, find cars lined up from Seventh and Main Sts. in Stroudsburg all the way to the bottom of Foxtown Hill (on the Water Gap side, that is).

They weren't forced to listen to the beleaguered epithets of tired New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania businessmen who had made a weekend trip to the "paradise on earth"—the Poconos—only to find themselves trapped in a never-ending snarl of traffic worse than anything this side of Manhattan itself.

August traffic was comparatively mild. But 1951 was a bumper year for the Stroudsburgs, industry-wise.

They manufactured $20 million in metal and metal products, put out a $10 million textile production and set their printing presses humming to the tune of $6 million during the year.

But the highways stayed the same. All roads led into, out of and through the Stroudsburgs. Whenever possible, most people kept right on going through.

When they couldn't budge, they stayed in their own hot, steaming cars and stewed in their own juices. Some Stroudsburg businessmen were doing the same. Why? Could it be they were wondering how their steady customers felt about this mad traffic melee?

The guy behind the wheel wasn't too interested in getting out of his car to take a look at a thriving industrial community filled with beautiful buildings.

It had taken him too long to get down the hill (sometimes as much as an hour and three-quarters between Delaware Water Gap and Stroudsburg) and he was keeping both eyes on the road, waiting for a chance to break through to a little "freedom on the road."

Like the New Jersey motorist who finally made it to Tannersville on his way to Scranton to visit relatives last Memorial Day. Said he, when asked why he hadn't stopped for "something to eat" in Stroudsburg:

"Who the hell wants to stop in a town where he's not even sure he can get out again?"

It was a ruefully sad commentary on the theory of the "captive buying public." It meant you could hobble the horse but you couldn't make him drink.

Chorus Gives Folk Opera Here Tonight

The single performance of Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley" will be given tonight at Stroudsburg High School auditorium by the Community Chorus.

Musical director is Dr. Earl Willhoite, who started his musical career as a vocal instructor at Little Sulphur, Okla. His training of the high school chorus there was so effective that they won first in the State contest four years later and were picked to represent the state in regional competition.

In 1940 Dr. Willhoite joined the Army, was a field artillery captain in New Guinea, New Britain and the Philippines. At his discharge in 1946 he was selected to fill a vacancy in Classen High School, Oklahoma City, noted for its top-notch musical department.

In three years there, his vocal groups won 46 "superior ratings" in State contests.

In 1949 Willhoite joined the Waring organization. He is assistant choral editor at Shawnee Press and a choral instructor at Waring's Music Workshop.

Performance of tonight's one-act folk opera is sponsored by the General Hospital Auxiliary.

DeVivo's Shoemen, Mt. Pocono Diner Win Tourney Games

Senior Division Battle Settled In Second Half

DeVivo's Shoemen rolled over Frailey's Insurance, 82-66, in the senior division of the Monroe County YMCA Elimination Basketball Tournament last night, on the YMCA court.

The second half of the double-header found Mount Pocono Diner taking the measure of Harold's Atlantic, 70-62, in a junior division contest.

DeVivo's club and Frailey's quintet battled through a rough and tumble contest in the opener, with at least four players being excused early because of five personal fouls.

The ultimate winner led 18-2 at one time in the first period, but Frailey's club came back to trail by only a 36-29 count at the half-way mark.

DeVivo's club, paced by the backboard work of "Big John" Possinger and the shooting of Henry "Hank" Stetler, had things its own way in the third round and then scored enough to win easily during the fourth quarter.

Leads Attack

Stetler led the winning scoring parade with 27 points, while Ed "Jake" Palmer, with 24 counters, was the big gun in a losing cause.

Frailey's five made good on 28 of 52 foul shots, while DeVivo's club hit on 18 of 23 charity tosses.

Mt. Pocono tripped Harold's Atlantic in a close contest played as the second part of a doubleheader. The winning team held the upper hand most of the game, although the score was tied 10-10 at one time in the first period.

The Diner led 22-15 at the end of the first quarter and 40-30 at halftime. Harold's Atlantic held a slim edge during the second half, but not enough to change the course of battle.

Andy Sapp and Don Kinsley were the chief point producers for the winning team, with 21 and 16 markers respectively. Jim Kintz led the attack for Harold's Atlantic with 18 tallies.

Mt. Pocono made good on 14 of 22 shots from the foul line, while Harold's club hit on two of six foul tosses.

Today's schedule in the tournament will send Newman's quintet against Sherman Theater in a junior division contest, while Wagner's Garage and Newman's Dress Shop clash in a senior division battle.

Christenberry Issues Warning To Olson

New York. (AP)—If Carl "Bob" Olson wants to participate in the American middleweight elimination tournament, he'd better make up his mind quickly, Bob Christenberry said yesterday.

The chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, who has been working close with the NBA, said that if Olson doesn't say yes by Friday, the winner of the Paddy Young-Ernie Durando fight may be recognized as the American champion. Young and Durando meet in a 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Stand

Olson, the number one American 160-pounder from San Francisco, has said repeatedly he has no intention of fighting in the tournament as set up by the joint board of the NBA and New York commission.

His position is that he has beaten most of the leading middleweights and that he wants to fight just once for the title. He is hoping to meet England's Randy Turpin.

Giants Rally To Clip Japanese

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—The New York Giants came from behind to clout their Japanese namesakes, the Tokyo Giants, 8-4, in 80-degree weather here yesterday.

Big Blows

Rookie third baseman Rance Pless and veteran shortstop Alvin Dark led a 10-hit New York attack with homers. Pless connected with two on in the fourth to put his team ahead to stay, while Dark's drive came with none on in the seventh.

Dykes Needs Help Behind Plate, On Mound, In Outfield Before Pennant Talk Becomes Serious

West Palm Beach, Fla. (AP)—Eighth in 1950, sixth in 1951 and fourth in 1952, the Philadelphia Athletics can continue their annual two-notch jump provided they get the pitching. There is little doubt the A's will get plenty of runs.

The winter trade that sent Ferris Fain, the American League's leading hitter to Chicago for first baseman Eddie Robinson, gives the Athletics two of the top sluggers in the loop. With big Gus Zernial hitting from the right side and Robinson from the left side, enemy pitchers are going to be in for plenty of trouble. Gus smashed 29 home runs and drove in 100 runs last season. Robinson rapped 22 homers and was tied for second in the league with 104 RBIs.

Old standbys like Eddie Joost, Elmer Valo and Cass Michaels also figure to chip in occasionally with a variety of long blows.

The big trouble with the A's is their advanced age and lack of speed. The youngest regular on the club is castoff Michaels, the 27-year-old second baseman, who seems to play his best ball under Manager Jimmy Dykes.

"We need a third baseman, a good-hitting catcher, another outfielder and another pitcher," said the ever-truthful Dykes. What's the use of kidding myself. We're not going to win any pennants unless we can come up with at least two of these men. We should do just as good, possibly a little better, but not much.

"Another thing. We've got to get off to a better start than we have been getting off to in the past few springs. We're always last in May. I don't know why. We're always in shape. We just can't seem to start hitting and fielding until July or August."

Pitching could be the A's strongest department. Much depends whether Bobby Shantz can repeat his 24-game winning season of 1952 and Harry Byrd can stay away from the sophomore jinx. Byrd, the strong-armed righthander who won rookie of the year honors, looks like he will improve on his 15 victories of last year.

Southpaw Alex Kellner gives Dykes three solid starters. Jimmy figures righthander Carl Scheib as his fourth starter.

Zulueta Finishes Strong To Gain Split Verdict

Brooklyn (AP)—Cuba's Orlando Zulueta finished strong last night to gain a split decision over Wallace "Bud" Smith, Cincinnati Negro, in a telecast 10-rounder at Eastern Parkway Arena. Smith a seven to one favorite, weighed 138 to Zulueta's 135 lb.

Referee Pete Scalzo (6-4) and Judge Joe Agnello (8-2) voted for Zulueta. Referee Bill Recht scored for Smith 7-2-1. The AP scorecard had Zulueta in front, 6-4.

Upset

Smith, fresh from a draw with undefeated Johnny Saxton, got off to a good lead in the first half of the fight by crowding the Cuban and scoring effectively with combinations at short range.

But from the fifth round on, Zulueta appeared to have his opponent's style and outboxed him consistently.

The tall, slender Cuban kept off his rival with stabbing left jabs and snappy left hooks. There were no knockdowns but Smith was cut under the right eye in the third round.

Hackettstown Eliminates Barbers, 96-86

Hackettstown.—Frank's Barbers bowed out of the Blue Mountain League basketball playoff series last night, when Hackettstown scored a 96-86 decision over the East Stroudsburg quintet, here on the Hackettstown high court.

The home team held the upper hand for the first three periods, and a two-point edge constructed by the Barbers during the final round failed to change the outcome of the contest.

Hackettstown, number two club in the final standings, led 24-21 at the end of the first period and 52-47 at the halfway mark.

On Ice

The home team put the game on ice with a 22-15 bulge in the third period and then fought off a weak finishing kick by the East Stroudsburg contingent to reach the final round.

Frank's club made good on eight of 16 foul shots, while Hackettstown hit on only two of 12 tosses from the charity stripe.

Line Material, Wyckoff-Sears Decision Foes

Line Material pulled the biggest upset of the Biddy Basketball League season yesterday by taking the measure of WVPO, 32-31, in the second half of a doubleheader. Wyckoff-Sears ran over Candyland in the opening contest, 48-25. The doubleheader was played on the Monroe County YMCA court.

WVPO was defeated at its own game, as Line Material rallied in the final quarter to bring home the bacon, after the Broadcasters had entered the last round on the long end of a 23-21 score.

It has been common for WVPO to dominate the last quarter and overcome an early lead constructed by the opposition during the present campaign.

No Danger
Wyckoff-Sears was never in danger in its game with Candyland. The ultimate winner led 12-5 at the end of the first period and 18-10 at the halfway mark.

Second half play completely favored Wyckoff-Sears, who in turn built most of its winning margin.

Tommy Cross, center for Wyckoff-Sears, led the scoring column for the day. Cross accounted for 28 points on 14 field goals.

Erskine Goes Route As Dodgers Blank A's In Final Miami Tilt

Miami, Fla., GP—The Brooklyn Dodgers concluded their Spring campaign here yesterday with Carl Erskine shutting out the Philadelphia A's, 8-0.

It was Brooklyn's eighth victory in 10 games at Miami during which they drew 74,407 fans.

Erskine, Manager Charles Dressen's probable opening day choice, allowed two hits in becoming the first Dodger to go the route.

Slight Trouble
Erskine faced but 30 batters and was in trouble only in the third when he issued his only pass.

Billy Cox, again playing third base with Jackie Robinson nursing a bruised knee, opened the attack with a homer in the third.

DiMaggio To Be Ready For Opener

Sarasota, Fla., GP—Veteran outfielder Don DiMaggio said yesterday the eye inflammation which delayed his spring training for several weeks, has virtually cleared and he expects to be ready for the American League Opener April 14.

Today
The Sox had a day off yesterday and will play the New York Yankees here today.

Left-hander Bill Henry was optioned to Louisville of the American Association.

Giants To Feature TV
Phoenix, Ariz., GP—President Horace Stoneham announced yesterday that the New York Giants will televise all their 1953 home games in the Polo Grounds.

Phillies Slug Milwaukee, 11-5

Bradenton, Fla., (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies hit three homers to wallop the Milwaukee Braves, 11-5, yesterday and gave star pitcher Robin Roberts another spring training victory.

Roberts gave up only three hits, and no runs, before retiring in favor of pinchhitter Bill Nicholson in the eighth. Roberts added his own cause by smacking a two-run homer in the big six-run Phillies' sixth. In this game, Granny Hamner also connected for four bases.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to reveal to you your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

New Class "B" Basketball Regional Champs Certain

Harrisburg, (AP)—New class "B" schoolboy cage champions will rule both western and eastern Pennsylvania after tonight's regional finals.

Top contenders for the two crowns taken last year by Avalon in the west and Kutztown in the east are Irwin, representing the same District Seven Avalon came from, and Darby of District One.

Avalon, defending state champion, failed to win its sectional title in the WPIAL and did not qualify for the PIAA championship eliminations. And for the first time in four years Kutztown will not be one of the contenders in the 1953 final Friday at Pittsburgh.

The annual District Three winners, who won the "B" ribbon in 1950 and 1951, were sidetracked this year by Darby, 58-45, in a preliminary regional game Friday. It was the first playoff win Darby has been able to score over Kutztown in three straight tries.

Today's schedule has Darby opposing Ashley of District two at Allentown in the eastern game and Mercer of District 10 going against Irwin at New Wilmington.

Irwin's Black Knights, also holder of the state title twice, take Pennsylvania's best schoolboy record into the tilt at Allentown.

The Section 13 champion of the WPIAL lost only once since the beginning of the 1953 season—and that time to a class "A" quintet, Greensburg. The Knights have rolled to 32 victories in the meantime. The last 28 have been in succession, six in this month's playoff grid.

Irwin beat Forbes, (District Five) and Cresson (District Six) in preliminary inter-district play.

Key cog in the Irwin attack is Jay McFarland, the only starting senior, at six feet even.

Mercer's hopes also revolve around one man. "As goes McElrath, so goes Mercer," has been the cry in Mercer County for two years.

"Big Jim" McElrath, a six foot three inch pivot man, averaged about 25 points a game during his team's first 25 games. Mercer advanced to the western final by downing Johnstown (District 9) in a first rounder.

Darby presents a well-balanced club sparked by six foot three Alonzo Lewis. The Rams tied Yeardon for the suburban Philadelphia Section Two title and have a record of 21 wins in 25 games.

Ashley's high scoring five, from the North League of District Two, averaged over 70 points each outing in taking the league flag from defending circuit and District Two class "A" champ, Skowheganville. A good small man, Danney Stankiewicz five foot 11, is the top scorer.

A disagreement arose yesterday over the proposed site for the class "A" PIAA state title game set for today. Harrisburg, eastern winner, refused to make the trip to Erie's Gannon College to meet Erie Cathedral Prep, on the grounds that the floor was not neutral.

Erie Kanty Prep and St. Basil's of Pittsburgh meet for the class "B" western title today at Pittsburgh, with the "B" final on tap Friday between that winner and Bethlehem. The game is to be at Bethlehem.

Eight Horses Burn To Death At Jamaica

New York, (AP)—The third big race track fire in New York in less than a year left eight horses dead yesterday, one barn leveled and damages estimated around $110,000.

No big winners were killed in the flash blaze which swept through Jamaica's Barn 22 near the backstretch of the track Sunday night, but two of the sports' outstanding thoroughbreds had close calls.

Intent, winner of the $100,000 Santa Juan Capistrano Handicap at Santa Anita two weeks ago, galloped out in panic when his stall was opened. He was found racing around the track all alone after the fire had been conquered.

Scorched

Count Turf, winner of the 1951 Kentucky Derby, was in an adjoining barn, which was badly scorched but not seriously damaged. The Count and two other horses were led to safety from the neighboring quarters as firemen battled 100-foot-high flames.

Killed in the fire were seven thoroughbreds, awaiting opening of the Jamaica season April 1. Five others including Intent, bolted to safety after their stalls were opened by stable help.

The casualties included: Micheo, Teclotele and A Pony, all owned by B. H. Burden's Owl Stable of Los Angeles; Bee and Bee, owned by Jennings Smallwood of New York; Sign Here, Fair Self and Brave Irish, owned by Pat Torino of New York and Star Ruby, property of Mrs. Anne Kissler of New York.

Micheo is the full brother of Miche, a well-known stakes winner. Teclotele is a promising two-year-old which has been nominated for the $10,000 added youthful stakes at Jamaica April 29.

These two horses were valued at about $25,000 each. The overall value of the dead animals was put at $80,000 while barn damage was estimated at $30,000.

Empty

No one was in Barn 22 when the fire started but the blaze was recorded on the automatic alarm in the superintendent's office. Almost simultaneously, watchman Anthony Laka saw smoke coming from the stable and he quickly ran to the rescue.

Laka and other hands opened all the stall doors possible but the horses who later burned to death became frantic and wouldn't leave their stalls.

"It was pitiful to hear the horses screaming," said stablehand Louis Gonzales, awakened from his sleep in a nearby barn.

Life of Riley

Harry Warner, native of Reeders, got off to a good start in the first two practice games for the Toledo entry in the class "AAA" American Association last week. The former Pocono High athletic star pounded out a home run and single in the first tussle and then drew three walks in five trips to the plate in the second outing. Warner, a first baseman, received his start in professional baseball with the Stroudsburg Poconos, when the class "D" North Atlantic League was still in operation.

Pocono High School opened its baseball practice yesterday under Coach Harry Werkheiser. Joe Shea, star tackle on the East Stroudsburg High grid machine for the past four years, appears almost certain of an appointment to West Point. Even though Joe is almost assured of becoming a cadet, he plans a visit to Yale over the coming weekend. Yale is also hot after the services of the big lineman.

The entire health and physical education department of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will present its annual gym exhibition on Thursday, in the Normal Hill gymnasium. Jack Carden, former basketball star at Coolbaugh High, is now a resident of California. Jack also attended Pocono High briefly. Dennis Roth, high scoring center for Lehigh High School's basketball team during the past three seasons, may enter George Washington University next September.

Charley Eyer, former Emmaus High baseball and basketball star, according to reports will be back as the regular first baseman for the Lafayette baseball team this season, a position he held last year. Eyer also won a letter in basketball at Lafayette during the season just completed. Mike Devitt, publicity director for Shawnee Inn, was among the large crowd at last Friday's "Past Times Review," staged by the Varsity "S" Club at Stroudsburg High.

Mark Nejak, one of the best track performers in the history of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is now a member of the Army and is stationed in Camp Gordon, Ga. Mark, who ran the half mile and mile for ESSTC for the past three years, is currently enrolled in radio school. Ron Mrozinski, White Haven, and Stan Pals, former pitcher and outfielder with Carbondale, of the North Atlantic League, have been optioned to Baltimore, of the International League, by the Phillies. The Phillies have great hopes for these two kids in future years.

Mrozinski was a guest at the annual Pocono Mountains Baseball League banquet at Bartonville Hotel last winter. LeRoy Pearson spends his winters running up high bowling scores in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and Bangor. In the Summer Pearson is chief scorekeeper for the Portland baseball club, an entry in the Blue Mountain League. LeRoy recently rolled games of 223, 214 and 246 for a 683 total in the Commercial "B" League. This was the third straight 600 match for Pearson in the Commercial "B."

The big pre-season problem for Pocono A. C. of the Blue Mountain League, is finding a first baseman for the coming campaign. Dick Schaller, who held down that position last year, is now in the Army. The largest crowd to watch an opening night of a post-season basketball tournament at the Monroe County YMCA in recent years was on hand last night. The Mt. Pocono Diner quintet that appeared in the second game of the tournament last night is actually the Coolbaugh High varsity quintet.

Pocono Manor Service Center, another club slated to appear in the junior division of the YMCA tournament, is actually the Tobyhanna Township High School cage machine, the same team that only recently won its fourth straight Monroe County League championship. Last night's game between DeVivo's Shommen and Frailey's Insurance was one of those real rough and tumble affairs. Ray Lambert and Ray Davies did a fine job of officiating under the circumstances.

Stockertown will be allowed to return to the Blue Mountain League next year, if the club so desires. Stockertown was unable to obtain enough players to field a team during the coming campaign. Most of the Stockertown regulars from last season have been picked up in the service draft. Pocono A. C. would like to play all its home Blue Mountain League game on the East Stroudsburg Playground field. This is the same field on which East Stroudsburg High goes through its home paces.

O'Sullivan Captures North-South Golf Crown

Pinehurst, N. C., (AP)—Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., led all the way yesterday to defeat Mary Lena Faulk two and one, and win her third North and South golf championship tournament in four years.

Pat dropped a 12-footer for a winning birdie three on the first hole. From there on there appeared little doubt that she would regain the title she held for two years before losing to Barbara Rnack of Sacramento, Calif., in last year's finals.

Mary Lena, from Thomasville, Ga., failed to reach the form she had displayed in earlier rounds. She was not nearly so sharp on the greens. She had played near par most of the time since last Thursday, but yesterday she was four over on each side.

Pat, meanwhile, matched women's regulation 37 on the front side of the number two course of the Pinehurst Country Club and slipped four over for the eight holes played coming home.

Brisebois Wins Crown

Quebec, (AP)—Rocky Brisebois of Montreal last night won the Canadian welterweight championship by knocking out Bryan Kelly of Niagara Falls, Ont., at 1:34 of the seventh round. Brisebois weighed 146, Kelly 140 1/2.

Braddock Predicts Quick End To Bout

Chicago, (AP)—The Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight title bout in Chicago Stadium April 10 won't last 10 rounds, former champion James J. Braddock predicted yesterday.

Braddock, who won the heavyweight crown from Max Baer in 1935 and lost it to Joe Louis in 1937, was in Chicago after visits to the training camps of Walcott and Marciano. His opinion: "One of them will get knocked out."

Plaintiff Orders Attorney To Withdraw Suit Against Rupp

Athens, Ga., (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Chumbley Bradberry last night said she was never a willing partner to a half-million dollar suit for alleged gambling losses against Kentucky basketball Coach Adolph Rupp and others. And she has ordered her attorney to halt the legal action.

W. Lee Bradberry, her husband, made the announcement of his wife's decision to drop the suit.

The suit, filed March 20, named Adolph Rupp, University of Kentucky basketball coach, gambler Frank Costello and Ed Curd, reputed former Lexington bookmaker, as co-defendants. The action was filed in behalf of Mrs. Bradberry's brother, George Chumbley, who allegedly lost money in gambling operations which the suit said were conducted by Curd.

Count Turf, winner of the 1951 Kentucky Derby, was in an adjoining barn, which was badly scorched but not seriously damaged. The Count and two other horses were led to safety from the neighboring quarters as firemen battled 100-foot-high flames.

Killed in the fire were seven thoroughbreds, awaiting opening of the Jamaica season April 1. Five others including Intent, bolted to safety after their stalls were opened by stable help.

The casualties included: Micheo, Teclotele and A Pony, all owned by B. H. Burden's Owl Stable of Los Angeles; Bee and Bee, owned by Jennings Smallwood of New York; Sign Here, Fair Self and Brave Irish, owned by Pat Torino of New York and Star Ruby, property of Mrs. Anne Kissler of New York.

Micheo is the full brother of Miche, a well-known stakes winner. Teclotele is a promising two-year-old which has been nominated for the $10,000 added youthful stakes at Jamaica April 29.

These two horses were valued at about $25,000 each. The overall value of the dead animals was put at $80,000 while barn damage was estimated at $30,000.

Empty

No one was in Barn 22 when the fire started but the blaze was recorded on the automatic alarm in the superintendent's office. Almost simultaneously, watchman Anthony Laka saw smoke coming from the stable and he quickly ran to the rescue.

Laka and other hands opened all the stall doors possible but the horses who later burned to death became frantic and wouldn't leave their stalls.

"It was pitiful to hear the horses screaming," said stablehand Louis Gonzales, awakened from his sleep in a nearby barn.

Suggs Defeats Rawls In Playoff

Spartanburg, N. C., (AP)—Louise Suggs defeated Betsy Rawls in a sudden-death playoff here yesterday to win the first annual Peach Blossom-Betsy Rawls Invitation Open Golf Tournament.

Top Attractions

Miss Suggs, the Atlanta miss who is leading the Women Professional Golfers Association this year, and Miss Rawls, who earned the most money in 1952, wound up the 54-hole tourney in a 216 deadlock.

Four School Coaches Fired

Kittanning, Pa., (AP)—Kittanning High school fired three head coaches and an assistant mentor yesterday and the dismissals brought a howl from the pupils.

Parade

Seventy-five boys walked out of classes and paraded around the school, yelling and shouting.

Notice

The proposed budget of Stroud Township has been prepared and is available for inspection at the home of the Secretary until March 27, at which time it will be adopted.
